It's Good to Be Here

I'd like to start by saying thank you! Thank you to the Call Committee for your work in helping me get here. And thanks to all for extending such a warm welcome. I am genuinely excited to be here and ready to start doing ministry with you all.

Some of you have asked, "how can we help support you as you begin here?" The answer is simple, come introduce yourselves. I'd love to grab coffee or lunch so I can get to know you and your families better. I'd be happy to have you swing by the office during office hours some Tuesday-Thursday as well. And if neither of those work, we can schedule something else. Some of my favorite ways to get to know people at my last church were attending sporting events with families, fishing a trout stream, going on a hike, and meeting people in their homes. I am looking forward to getting to know you!

As we begin this journey together, let us put our trust in the promise of God's presence. God is up to something good here at First English, and I am thrilled for the call to be apart of it. We will continue to honor and respect the work that has come before, and we will listen to where the Holy Spirit is leading us today and in the years to come. Please join me in keeping the ministry of First English in your prayers as we begin this work together.

In Christ,
Pastor Luke

Embracing Valentine's Day

February always brings in a faint (sometimes very faint) hint of spring with more daylight and then midway we hit Valentine's Day. Christians today may be cynical about the commercialization and media hype over 14th of February. But do we just ignore it or can we embrace the day and think how we can reach out to others?

It's a shame that our culture prizes romantic – eros love over any other type, when there are so many! Love is the only word we have in the English language to describe an infinite variety of relationships, emotions and actions that express it. In comparison, the Greek and Latin languages boast a wealth of precise words that describe specific types of love, many of which the New Testament writers used.

Eros love refers to romantic love. The word doesn't appear in Scripture but is inferred in Song of Solomon where the passionate love between spouses are described.

Storge love is the love that unites and bonds families: the love between parents and children, husband and wives, siblings and wider family members.

Phileo love is expressly used in the Bible to describe the warmth and affinity shared by close friends, almost as if they were actual siblings. When Jesus was seen crying over the death of Lazarus, one witness pointed to the depth of Jesus's love by using a derivative of the word phileo to exclaim, 'See how he loved him!' (John 11:36 NIV)

Last but not least is Agape love. This is the highest level of love the Bible describes. This form of love is everlasting, sacrificial and perfect. In the original Greek, agape is specifically used to describe God's love for us: 'God is love.' (1 John 4:8 NIV) Agape, in contrast to the other forms of love, is not born out of emotions and feelings, but from the will and as a choice. Agape requires faithfulness, commitment, and sacrifice without expecting anything in return. Paul beautifully describes agape love when he writes to the Corinthian church.

'Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails.' (1 Corinthians 13: 4-8 NIV)

With a little forethought and planning we can make Valentine's Day a celebration of all different types of love. Here are a few other suggestions to mark the day:

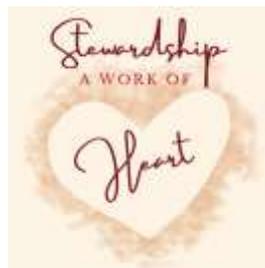

1. Send a thank you letter or card to your church leader or headteacher of your children's school – showing your appreciation for their leadership and commitment.
2. Agape can also be described as a 'love-feast': host a meal or a coffee meet up and invite those on the margins of your church family or who are lonely or in need.
3. Use the day as a catalyst to review your giving and causes you give to.
4. Agape love is sacrificial and active: carve out time to spend with someone else, either visiting or helping with some jobs; cleaning, gardening, DIY and so on.

For some, Valentine's Day will resurface painful or sad memories and a sense of loss and loneliness.

Particularly for those who are newly single for whatever reason, like a parent who lost their spouse after many years of marriage. But here is a chance for us to share God's overwhelming comforting agape love.

'Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves receive from God.' (2 Corinthians 1:3-4 NIV)

To all of my friends at First English,
 Thank you so much for the privilege of getting to serve as your interim pastor! The ten months I spent with you have been especially rewarding to me. I will be forever grateful for all of the kindness you showed me during my time in Cannon Falls. Also, I wanted to thank you for the many generous gifts and cards given to me on my last Sunday--I am humbled by the love showered upon me. My best to all of you. And if you're ever in Red Wing in the upcoming months, swing by First Lutheran and say hello!

Children, Youth & Family Ministries

Maddie Patterson, Director of Children, Youth & Family Ministry

Hi First English,

Here's what's been happening with the youth and what we have to look forward to!

Sunday School has been having fun and learning all about Jesus recently through lessons, crafts, and adventures. Last week we went on a special tour of the food shelf and talked about how we can serve the people around us.

Confirmation is diving back into the routine after Christmas break. We've picked up our learning by diving into who our New Testament faith ancestors are. Lessons about the disciples and other followers of Jesus from the New Testament have given us insight into who Jesus is.

Finally, we have an event coming up for the 6-12th grade youth on February 10th! The Florida Man Fun Night will be a night filled with games, crazy Bible stories, and activities for the youth. We'd love to see you there.

Peace,

Maddie Patterson

Director of Children, Youth, & Family Ministries

Southeastern Minnesota Synod

At our 2022 Synod Assembly, we gathered under the theme Imagine: Endless Possibilities in God's Grace. As we live into the future God has for us, we see what we had once only imagined start to take shape in concrete ways.

This year has brought a new way of meeting the needs of congregations in transition as we have explored various models for pastoral ministry. Most prominent among them is what we call a Bridge to Settled model. This new model allows congregations to work with a Bridge pastor (different than an intentionally trained interim) while forming a call committee and engaging in the call process with the understanding that both the pastor and congregation are open to transitioning from the Bridge into a settled call. It is not the right model for every congregation, but it has greatly benefited many.

We have also seen a gentle uptick in individual congregations exploring partnerships of all kinds. Some congregations are forming new joint parishes, others are working together to meld two part-time calls into full-time work for a single candidate, and still others are merging weekly confirmation classes. More and more of our congregations are realizing the profound benefits and joy of collaboration.

It has been fun to walk alongside folks as they lead their congregations into new ways of being the People of God in their community in this time and place.

As 2023 approaches, I remain ever hopeful for all that the Spirit will continue to do in and through us as the Southeastern Minnesota Synod. Looking ahead to our next Synod Assembly, I am excited to announce that we will be joined by Drs. Susan Brower and Matt Bloom. Drs. Brower and Bloom will give us tools to understand our communities as they are presently and as they are projected to be. They will also explore ways congregations can ignite flourishing in the communities to which they are called.

I am excited to continue imagining alongside each of you as we discern what God is doing in our midst and calling us to do. What a wonderful time to be the church together for the sake of the world.

In Christ,

Rev. Regina Hassanally

It's Not a Diet

I know. You are sick of hearing me talk about good nutrition and exercise. But I can't help myself, when I know they are the two most important aspects of healthy living. But here it is again, and I cannot impress upon you enough; the Mediterranean Diet is the heart of healthy eating. Its well-studied benefits include lower blood pressure and cholesterol, and it reduces the risk of developing type 2 diabetes.

I wish they wouldn't call it a "diet." Rather, it is a way of eating—a lifestyle that is healthy and just happens to taste good! What could be better than fish, poultry, fresh vegetables and fruit, nuts, beans, whole grains, and using healthy oils. And guess what? A glass of wine or alcoholic beverage is recommended! And eggs and cheese are also allowed in moderation. The Mediterranean "Diet" is very easy to follow. It is realistic and sustainable.

Rigorous studies have shown that the Mediterranean diet contributes to better heart health. This is because of changes in blood sugar, inflammation, and body mass index (all of which run amuck when eating processed foods like crackers, chips, and packaged foods and meals). The diet also protects against oxidative stress that can cause DNA damage and contributes to conditions such as neurological diseases and cancer. The Mediterranean diet can also help to lose weight if calories are monitored. By itself, the diet won't eliminate chances of developing heart disease and it won't cure disease...it should be used in conjunction with regular exercise, adequate sleep, and not smoking.

There is one downside. Since the diet does not recommend eating a lot of red meat (a very occasional steak won't hurt), it will be important to make sure you are getting enough iron. Iron is found in nuts, beans, dark leafy green vegetables. Foods rich in vitamin C like citrus fruits, bell peppers, strawberries, and tomatoes will help you absorb iron.

The Mediterranean Diet along with healthy behaviors is at the heart of healthy living.

The proposed amendments to the Constitution were reviewed. Gail Moorhouse noted a spelling error on page 2, C4.02.f (player should be prayer). Cathy Rehm noted that she had not received a copy in the mail and asked for major changes. Diane Johnson explained that the proposed changes were to bring us into conformity with the required and recommended provisions of the ELCA model constitution for congregations. The 2 exceptions are to retain our Nominating Committee structure (6 members serving 2-year terms with 3 elected annually) and to retain our practice of no term limits for officers of the congregation/church council.

Diane Johnson moved to approve the proposed amendments to the Constitution as written, with spelling error corrected. Seconded. Passed.

Karen Anderson presented the proposed 2023 budget. Brian McDonald suggested increasing stipend for Bell Choir director. President Mike Miller said this was being reviewed. LaNor McDonald asked about plans for upgrading projection system. President Mike Miller said this discussion could now go forward, as council was waiting to get input from new pastor. Dick Peterson noted that we should not give less because we have money in the bank and encouraged the congregation to give more and do more.

Cathy Rehm moved to approve the proposed 2023 budget as written. Seconded. Passed.

Vice President Phil Jacobson thanked retiring Nominating Committee members Barb Elias, LuAnn Hughes, and George Rehm, and retiring Foundation members Cathy Rehm and Rick Hughes. He thanked retiring council member Mike Miller for his service and for serving as President for 5 years.

Moved, seconded, and passed to adjourn at 10:50 am.

Respectfully submitted,
Diane Johnson, Secretary
